IS 72-HOUR WEEK ILLEGAL?

Are Firemen Not Entitled to 8% Increase in Pay ?

The Honorable, The City Council,
San Diego, California.

Gentlemen:

Now that the voters of San Diego have denied the petition of the AFL labor union in our fire department for an amended city charter to increase their pay and reduce their hours of work, your honorable body finds itself faced with this delightful situation:

Upon my request you have granted the firemen a six-day week, commencing with the first of July. But the attorney for the firemen as well as Judge Joe Shell and another outstanding lawyer, Mr. George W. Fisher, claim that your grant is illegal and in violation of the existing city charter which established the two platoon shift of alternate 24 hours. The same claim was set forth by the spokesman for the AFL Fire Fighters Association, Mr. G. Peterson.

Under these circumstances there is great danger that the attorney for the firemen, Shelley Higgins, might file suit against the city for establishing an illegal six-day week, should you incorporate the six-day week and the firemen might also throw the whole payroll system into confusion by their refusal, as good citizens, to accept the proposed 8% general pay increase proffered by the Civil Service Commission.

You remember [illegible] I filed suit against you to restrain you from recognizing the petition of the firemen for a charter amendment on the grounds that insufficient signatures were attached to it, and I alleged that the bulk of the signatures were obtained by fraud and coercion as well as intimidation. The result of the polls sustains my charge.

Since the institution of the six-day week and the raise of 8% in pay would entail yearly expenditures, commencing with over $200,000 and the firemen themselves say that you have no authority to give them that much money out of the taxpayers' pockets, I hereby petition you to call a public hearing on the matter and invite the learned gentlemen of the law, Messrs. Higgins, Shell and Fisher, as well as the spokesman for the firemen's AFL union to present their case against the contemplated change from the 84 hours per week shift, to the 72 hour shift and the 8% increase in pay.

It is your duty to conserve taxpayers' monies and not force the firemen to accept better working conditions contrary to law or more pay which you have no power to give them. Otherwise they might sue you as taxpayers to protect themselves against this illegal expenditure of city funds. And if they don't sue, some other taxpayer might.

Yours truly, C. LEON de ARYAN.

Hitler, Britain's Life Saver

Believe it or not, Ripley has missed something. Adolf Hitler is saving British lives and introducing democracy in England. This is being revealed in an Associated Press story. Hitler broke down class snobbery in England when dukes, lords, duchesses and "commoners" have to sleep in the same hole underground during bombings. None who has not had close contact with English life appreciates what a terrific jolt this is to the "better" classes. As to this let James B. Forgan tell it:

Life Safer in Bombed England Than in Peace, Survey Shows

WASHINGTON,— An American Red Cross official declared the loss of life in blitz-bombed England actually is less than in peacetime.

James B. Forgan, chairman of the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross, undertook to explain the paradox at the national convention of the organization here.

"This situation can partially be accounted for," he said, "by the fact that during the past year more English people have been trained in first aid, accident prevention, nutrition, personal and household hygiene, sanitary precautions and health preservation than in any time in England's history.

"By taking autos off the highways, by exercising caution in the home and in industry, by improving diet, by safeguarding self and community from the threats of epidemics through sanitation, vaccination and immunization, the English are saving more lives than their enemies are able to take."

Forgan and other leaders declared there are many points of similarity between relief of civil populations in war areas, and relief operations in domestic disasters.

James L. Fieser, vice chairman in charge of domestic Red Cross operations, noted that the problems of food, shelter, clothing and medical care faced by bombed London are similar to those met in domestic flood areas, although aggravated manyfold.

Forgan said that experience in the 1937 floods in this nation showed that communities with disaster preparedness organizations fared well, while those without such activities found the going much harder.

Keep Writing to President & Congress

Don't let up writing a letter each week to the President and to our Congressman and the two Senators from California, telling them that we are opposed to participation in this war. Just because the conscription bill has been enacted as well as the lend-lease-give-away bill, is no reason why you should not advocate the repeal of these acts. It is your constitutional right and duty to tell your government what you want done.

Dear Sir:

I wish to call your attention to the fact that all straw polls to the contrary notwithstanding, I am not giving my consent to our participation in the European war and the waste of American taxmonies on a dead horse, the British Empire. To save democracy we must save it in America. For the actual defense of America against an armed invader, I assure you that every able bodied man and woman would volunteer. But these same Americans are opposed to the continuance of conscription for the benefit of foreign governments and the International Bankers.

I am hereby requesting you to use your good office for the repeal of the conscription act and the lease-lend bill.

More Twaddle About Going to War

UNION HOUSE: 10 East 40th Street, New York.

L. N. Hallberg, Esq.,
The Post Falls Advance,
Post Falls, Idaho.

Dear Mr. Hallberg,

Thank you for your letter and enclosure of the BROOM reference to UNION NOW.

It seems unnecessary to make a specific denial of a libelous statement so completely a misrepresentation of the UNION NOW proposal. However, let me assure you that UNION NOW does not mean, as the Broom puts it:

1. That the United States is to be annexed to Great Britain;
2. That the King is to be our ruler;
3. That the Union Jack is to replace our Stars and Stripes.

The Union proposal briefly is this;

1. That the United States, and the 6 self-governing units of the British Commonwealth take the first step in forming a World democratic government, by uniting in an American form of Federal Union, with a Constitution and representation similar to those we know now.

As we have 130,000,000 people and the six British democracies have only 80,000,000 among them, it will be apparent that such a Union would be controlled by Americans . . . a far different thing from the military alliance into which we are in fact drifting now . . . in which the British will have six votes to our one.

2. That once such a Union is formed and the war ended we shall invite in the other democracies of Europe now conquered or surrounded;

3. That we specifically reserve room in such a Union for the people of Germany and of Italy when they shall have reached the point where they are willing to guarantee their peoples the civil rights of democratic government.

In such a Union no internal changes take place at all. The British people retain their King if they wish . . . it is no concern of ours; we unite only in those factors which, held separately have always been a cause of dissension . . . the factors that if allowed to continue operating, will first bring us into the war and then cause us to lose the peace.

There are certain positive results of such a [illegible] it by far the best possible answer to the dilemma in which all free peoples are now enmeshed.

1. It unites, in positive, unbreakable fashion, all the vast military and industrial might of the remaining democracies in the defense of liberties which are attacked.

2. It makes impossible any eventual victory for the Axis, preserves the British Fleet from surrender even if the British Isles are occupied and ensures our control of the oceans during the period before our two ocean navy can be built.

3. It makes highly desirable on the part of Japan a caution which she has so far not shown in her efforts at expansion. The American fleet in the Pacific, by having automatically available to it as its own the bases at Singapore, Hong-Kong and in Austraila, becomes able to defend our basic interests as it now cannot.

4. Such a Union holding out the hope to the defeated democracies of Europe, is the greatest possible inspiration to them to rise up and overthrow the Axis from within . . . the only way in which it can be overthrown short of an expeditionary force. If Union cannot defeat the Axis, you may be sure that anything short of Union is bound to failure.

5. It insures a just and magnanimous peace by preventing the political factors which, separately, are bound to come to the fore, from dividing us and Britain in the peace negotations. This was the mistake made at the last War, when after helping to win it by military force, we threw away the Peace by refusing to fulfill our responsibilities as the single great power of the world.

Nothing short of Union can accomplish so much. Everything short of Union involves much greater risks. Our Constitution is our basic foreign policy, and in its extension to other peoples we fulfill the policy which our fathers meant to provide, and which we have already steadily fulfilled in our history; Remember that the Union they brought into being was limited on the West by the Alleghany Mountains; that in a series of steps they extended it, state by state, to the Pacific Coast, and will in time, extend it also to Hawaii and to Alaska, certainly. We feel that the times are so urgent that only extension of our Constitutional principles to protect democracy wherever found is sufficient, first to defend it then to protect and preserve it.

Sincerely yours,
PATRICK WELSH.

JOSH LEE BILL, S 1650

Now Pending in Congress

Under the provisions of the Josh Lee bill the Congress does not even have to declare war. The President has only to declare that a state of emergency exists, due to the imminance of war, and immediately assume dictatorial powers.

Then every person will be compelled to register his goods, wealth, financial resources and obligations, with the government, and include in his financial statement not only his family home, but his life insurance policies, and all sources of possible wealth and income at their appraised values. The citizen would then be compelled to invest his resources in 50 year government bonds, bearing 1% interest, or less, which interest would be taxable.

If the citizen should not have the cash on hand, or readily available, to buy his allotment of bonds, he will be forced to borrow, put up adequate collateral for security, and pay 6% interest.

If the citizen fails to disclose his gross wealth and possessions, including the value of his home and insurance policies, he is assessed a fine of $10,000 or imprisoned up to two years. If the citizen fails to buy his full allotment of bonds, he will be fined up to 100,000 and imprisoned up to five years.

Roosevelt Responsible for Yugo-Slavia

(Over KGB, Wednesday 7:15 pm, April 23, 1941)

Governor Robert LaFollette and Senator Nye urged their San Diego audiences, on their recent appearance in the Russ auditorium, to write weekly letters to President Roosevelt, advising him that we oppose active participation of the U. S. A. in the war between Germany vs. Britain. Both said that had it not been for this campaign of letter writing to the Congress and the President, the U. S. would have declared war by now.

I have been asked by many people who want to write letters, how to address the President or the senators and congressmen. In the current issue of THE BROOM you will find detailed instructions.

San Diego Radio Forum

I have been asked by the San Diego Radio Forum, which has been putting on a number of programs over KGB on Saturday nights at 7:30, to announce that on May 3rd the Varsity Debating teams of State College, represented by Alan Perry, Warren Whipple, Phyllis McGrath and Rita Larkin, will discuss the following topic: "RESOLVED, That the nations of the western hemisphere should enter into a permanent union."—Such a union has been advocated by Technocrats for some time already, at least for North America.

Treacherous Governments

The reason why I became an American citizen, in preference to all other governments, is that from personal contact with foreign governments I found them to be treacherous. I came to this country from British India where I had been in the service of the British government as a civil engineer for irrigation. Previously I had worked in Turkey's Mesopotamia under British engineers. That difference between foreign diplomacy and the American brand is exemplified in the talk made by Congresswoman Frances P. Bolton, of Ohio, on March 19. I am quoting her from the Congressional Record: "I say to you members of the majority, that we will hold you responsible if there is war. You have said all along that this is all for peace. Then keep us at peace. The mothers of the United States, yes, all the women of this country, expect that of you and will hold you, and the Chief Executive you represent, wholly responsible."

I became a citizen of the United States because our constitution gives me the opportunity to do my share to make this a country where the brave may live in freedom. Of course, I am a realist. I do not expect heaven on earth over night. There is no magic that will give us freedom and honesty in our public life. We have to produce it. Here in these United States we have the power, we have the right, we have the duty to exercise our ingenuity and our talents to produce a government which keeps its pledges. The professional politicians and social reformers are not going to give it to us; their chief interest is their boodle, their patronage, their power and personal prestige. We, the small people, we who yet have faith in God and who teach our children that a man's worth is not better than his word, we must not falter. Of us Mrs. Bolton says: "Those of us who are on the minority side, who have fought as hard as we know how to keep this country out of war, expect you to keep your word. All the people who voted for you have the right to expect that of you. So if you do not keep your faith it will be a sorry world."

This world is what we humans make it. We can be honest and mean what we say, or we can be dishonest and expect to grow in power by cheating the unwary and robbing the industrious. We can set our face towards the ideal of the Man of Galilee or we can return to the jungle rule of tooth for tooth and an eye for an eye as Moses told the ancient Jews when he led them to the conquest of the desert towards Canaan.

Senator Wheeler in his recent tour of the continent is accusing the present administration, in every city where he speaks, of having precipitated this European war. He definitely charges William Bullitt, the ambassador to Russia and to France, with having given assurances to all the European countries whom he persuaded, or attempted to persuade to fight Germany, that the U. S. would come to their assistance with materials and finally with men. Senator Wheeler charges again and again, that had it not been for those assurances, Poland would not have gone to war over Danzig and the corridor, France would not have joined England in declaring war. He claims that the administration gave such pledges to the King and Queen when they called on the President.

From the latest reports it appears that Germany will soon hold all of Europe in its grip with exception of the Russian and Turkish territories. They are preparing to take over Spain, Gibraltar and perhaps Portugal. The latest exploit of the occupation in Serbia, Croatia, Bosnia, Herzogovina, Montenegro and Albania is a perfect example of how the Yugo-Slavs went to war.

Yugoslavia Betrayed

Under the regency of Prince Paul, the former Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic had signed a treaty with Germany which would have saved the country from the ordeals of war. Naturally it was what is being called appeasement. But [illegible] that the U. S. would help them fight the Germans. The Lend-Lease Bill had just passed and President Roosevelt openly and publicly addressed himself to the people and rulers of Yugo-Slavia, promising them support. That was the decisive move. Prince Paul was chased out of Serbia by a revolutionary coup of the army. Gen. Dusan Simovic took over as premier, the 17 years old King Peter went to war with Germany and in less than two weeks, misery and war had reduced the once flourishing kingdom to a status of war slavry.

What is the United States going to do about it? Are we going to send an expeditionary force to drive Hitler out of the Balkans and restore King Peter? Are we going to feed the Serbians, several hundred thousand of whom are war prisoners and will not be able to till their soil to ensure enough food for the families of peasant Serbia and Croatia!? Are we going to say that Mr. Hoover is foolish in wanting to feed the victims of war who cannot help themselves, because that would help Hitler!?

This is one case where the administration cannot deny the charges of Senator Wheeler that but for the promises of the U. S. minister to Yugo-Slavia and of President Roosevelt's special and personal envoy, in the person of Col. (Wild Bill) Donovan, Yugo-Slavia would not have gone to war against Hitler. It is now being openly admitted here and abroad that it was well known in advance that Hitler would overpower the Serbs inside of two weeks, that Greece could not hold out against him. British papers have even come out frankly with the statement that British troops had no business in Greece in the first place. But the reason for encouraging these small countries to go to war against Hitler is given that this would divert Hitler's attention from the invasion of Great Britain this spring.

I have told you that I came to the U. S. and became a citizen here because I was personally acquainted with the treachery of European governments who sacrifice their own people on the altar of greed, explotation and life long misery brought about through war. Here we must establish a government where the people are not to be pawns of treacherous rulers who promise one thing and do the oppposite. Can you not see what the people of Yugo-Slavia must be thinking and feeling about us? Their government had decided to save the people as had the government of Denmark. What's the use of facing a panzer steamroller with oxcarts and outdated cannons pulled by a team of oxen?! That was the equipment with which the Serbs met the Germans. Oxcarts for the soldiers and cannon pulled by oxen. And now are we going to let them starve when they could have had easier terms and freedom to do their spring sowing, raise their crops and feed themselves and families? Do we propose to make all the world hate us, by promising help to small nations to fight Hitler and after their destruction, we bring forth the excuse that it is their hard luck they got licked, but we must not feed their children, nor the women, nor the soldiers in prison camps, because that would help Hitler. Is that the way to reply to the faith these allies placed in us?

They accepted our promises at face value. They went to war. They risked life and liberty. Now they are prisoners of war, bodily and economically. Had we promised nothing they could not blame us. But we did promise to help them. How are we going to do it?

If we go to war, how many years will it take us to conquer Europe? In the meantime what about the children who will grow up undernourished and in a spirit of bitterness and hate against this great nation of ours which has more food than we need and which we refuse to let them have?

A war against rule of brutality is being fought, so they tell us. What about the brutality of promising help to small nations to fight Hitler and then letting them starve and their children grow into miserable, undernourished and hate filled creatures! Do you realize that when this happened to Germany after the last world armistice, it produced a race of men who are determined to break the power of those who starved them while they were children. In twenty years from today all of Europe will have produced just such a race, because all of them are starving, having gone to war to help the British and in the turn of events against them are being food-blockaded by the very ones they sacrificed their all to protect.

I believe this is a very serious matter. What we do today our children will have to pay for. They will reap the harvest. Shall it be a harvest of human consideration, of Christian compassion for the down and outers, or shall it be a brutal fate of letting the unfortunate suffer and despair? Our responsibility is terrific. "The mills of the Gods grind slowly yet they grind exceedingly small." 1914-18 produced Hitler as a result of our going to war to make the world safe for democracy. Winston Churchill [illegible] saving of life and the progress in rational liv[illegible]

What ye sow, that shall ye also reap, said Christ. God cannot be mocked. Which shall it be? Are we followers of the Christ or will we place our reliance in the brutalitarian law of the jungle: A tooth for a tooth and an eye for eye? This is the challenge that we must face and give the right answer.

Luther's Accusation: Jews and Their Lies-- Necessity of Combating The Jewish Race

Note: The quotations from Luther's works marked (W) originate from the Weimer Edition; those marked (E) from the Erlangen Edition. The passages reproduced are taken from Luther's principal work entitled "Jews and their Lies"; the others smaller essays written by Luther.

"I have circulated this pamphlet because I desire to be included amongst those who have warned Christianity against the Jews."

—Martin Sasse, Bishop.

The Jews are veritable liars and vampires . . . All their hearts' desire, their hopes and aspirations are actuated by their craving to be able to treat us Gentiles as they treated the heathen in Persia and in the days of Esther.

A more bloodthirsty and vindictive race has never seen the light of day. They regard themselves as the "Chosen of the Lord" and believe they are destined to annihilate and torture all Gentiles. The first and foremost task they expect their Messiah to accomplish is that he shall murder and slay all human beings with his sword. From the very earliest days they have undertaken all in their power to practically demonstrate this to the Christians & have continued to do so whenever they could. (W. 53, p. 443)

Therefore, my beloved Christians, be on your guard against this race doomed to eternal damnation, whom God has allowed to sink into such a mire of disgusting horrors and lies that all their deeds and words must necessarily be converted into falsehood, blashphemy and wickedness, as good and generous as such deeds may appear at first sight. (p. 434)

The entire existence of the Nation of Israel and the People of Judea is devoted to blasphemy against God's Word, its persecution and ridicule and the torture of the Prophets.

History shows that one can but regard this nation as a race of veritable murderers of Prophets and adversaries of God's Holy Word. (P. 436) Therefore, beloved Christians, let me warn you against this desperate nation which is doomed to eternal damnation, from whom you can learn nothing but disbelief, blasphemy and false interpretation of God and His Holy Bible, to murder Prophets to haughtily despise all other inhabitants of the world. (p. 439) They display nothing but malice, avariciousness, [illegible] towards each other; their intercourse with us Gentiles is full of contempt, usury, pride and imprecations, so that even a Jew would fain have very sharp eyes to detect a pious Jew . . . (p. 442) With the same justification all murderers, prostitutes, thieves, scoundrels and all other wicked people might boast of being God's Holy Chosen People.

S. O. S. !

To rape and murder and as well as to rob—
"With which the British can then finish this job"
As Churchill says, "Our needs are only the tools".
To follow this he will "need only the fools",
Then poor America will have much to sob !

Roosevelt Pushes Eire Into War--Another Victim of Zionism

WASHINGTON,—Ireland will obtain no weapons from the United States under the lease-lend law unless she lines up with Great Britain—or at least permits the British to use her western harbors as submarine bases. While not phrased quite so bluntly, that is the ultimatum the administration has given to Eire's messengers seeking arms for defense. State department spokesmen advanced a seemingly sound, legal reason for not complying with the request for aid. They interpret the law to mean that reinforcement shall be provided only to those nations "resisting aggression". When asked what they would do if they received American assistance, the Irish representatives replied they would still remain neutral. But they insisted that strengthening of their defenses might make Hitler think twice about attacking their island and using it as a base for operations against England.

Minister Brennan pointed out that Ireland's entrance would operate to the disadvantage of the British. His country, he said, is now shipping England $100,000,000 worth of foodstuffs a year. Eire's active participation, in his opinion, would invite a Hitler blitzkrieg, result in the destruction of agriculture, cattle herds and farmlands, with the loss of these provisions to the British.

Firemen's Fraud Exposed

50,000 fraudulently obtained signatures of the AFL Fire Fighters Association to initiative petition for a city charter amendment to raise wages 40%, were reduced to only 13,000 votes for the amendment and 18,000 against it. C. Leon de Aryan is shown with picket sign exposing fraudulent campaign statements which woke up the voters.

Firemen Face Pay Raise Loss By Recent Vote

A pre-election campaign challenge by firemen's counsel of a plan to up firemen's salaries and reduce their hours without a city charter amendment, boomeranged at a city council meeting Thursday when belief was expressed that defeat of Proposition 22 was a mandate from the people against the program.

This proposition was placed on Tuesday's general municipal election ballot through circulation by firemen of 11 *p*ive petitions which called for a city charter amendment that would have provided a 72-hour week and a minimum wage scale for firemen.

In a before-election letter in The Union open forum, Councilman Louis Weggenman opposed passage of Proposition 22 and pointed out:

Councilman Quoted

1—That the city council, by resolution, had directed the city manager to set up a 72-hour week for firemen beginning July 1, and,

2—That the civil service commission [illegible] recommended 42 compensation schedule for municipal employes, has provided salary increases for many workers, including firemen and policemen.

Counsel for the firemen and two other proponents of Proposition 22 challenged Weggenman's statements, and in a letter in The Union's open forum wrote in part:

Argument 'Boomeranged'

"For example, he states that it is unnecessary for a charter amendment to be passed in order to establish a 72-hour week for the firemen; by reason of the fact that the council has already, by resolution adopted a 72-hour week for the firemen, to become effective July 1.

"If the councilman had simply troubled to read Section 58 of the city charter, he would have avoided this error in his article because Section 58 of the charter provides for a double platoon system, which is, in effect, that each fireman shall be on duty for one-half of the entire 168 hours in each week, resulting in an 84-hour week for each fireman.

"Since the charter so provides, a 72-hour week can be effected only by a charter amendment, not by a mere resolution of the council . . . "

Attorney To Decide

Turning to the civil service compensation schedule, the writer held that Weggenman ". . . knows, or should know, that the civil service commission has no control over the salaries of firemen . . . "

'Saboteur Gang' Hit by Senator

TUSCON, Ariz.,—A "gang of saboteurs of our liberty, who for reasons of their own are screaming for war, Sen. Clark (D-Mo) declared here.

"They are equally disloyal to the essential interests of the United States, but they wrap around themselves the mantle of respectability and behind that costume constantly strive to involve the United States in war", said the senate isolationist leader in an address prepared for delivery at a mass meeting.

"Poor old William Allen White," he charged, "was kicked out when he restated his fine doctrine upon which he had originally been enticed into lending his fine name, namely that the 'Yanks are not coming'.

"Ernest Gibson was taken up as a shadow boxer behind whom may form the lines of the small but influential minority in this country to do, namely to drag us into war."

Clark did not mention by name the committee to defend America by aiding the Allies, from the chairmanship of which White, Emporia, Kansas publisher, resigned.

The senator urged "the four-fifths majority" of the citizens who "oppose our entrance into war" to petition the president "not to exercise the vast powers for getting us into war".

Air Trophy Won Permanently by Fred de Aryan

Fred de Aryan, 13, of Woodrow Wilson Junior High school, won permanent possession of the David McAllister trophy at the San Diego Sky Riders' rubber-powered model plane meet Sunday morning at Forty-seventh st. and Federal blvd.

The trophy had been contested for at five previous monthly meets and until Sunday de Aryan was tied with Herbert Mills in total [illegible] de Aryan also won the massed flight. Thirty planes took off at the same time and his was the last one down.

Third in Senior Event

Then he entered his plane in the senior event. Planes are timed only while in sight and his disappeared in the distance after an official flight of 10 minutes, 38 seconds, enabling him to finish third. K. Foster won the event, his plane remaining aloft 19 minutes, 10 seconds. D. C. Gale was second, 11 minutes, 14 seconds; Chuck Williams fourth, 9 minutes, 30 seconds, and A. Oliver fifth, 7 minutes, 31 seconds.

Young de Aryan's plane came down in the vicinity of Sixty-eighth st. and Broadway extension, he figured. While searching for it, he came upon the Conniry airport, near the navy radio station. and James Conniry took him up on his first plane ride in an attempt to spot the missing model. "We looked for about 15 minutes but didn't see it," said de Aryan.

Right--Let England Fight Own Battles

"AMERICA is ready to support the war financially to the last Englishman", is the slur that appeared recently in Jane's "All the World's Aircraft", and English publication. It sounds like a pretty good wisecrack, but like so many wisecracks and smart-Alec remarks of some of our smartest writers and talkers, it carries a dirty sting that is hurtful, even to the person who made it. In this particular case, the Jane publication has come in for a bitter rebuke at the hands of Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair of the British government, who has asked parliament to join him in official condemnation of the published remark.—Times-Advocate, Escondido.

Wm Dudley Pelley Claims Persecution

Editor, The Broom:

I have today received the most disconcerting news that has come to me over the past ten years. Despite the bitter and expensive battle I have put up since being arrested in the Dies Committee room, to restrain Judge Nettles of North Carolina in his attempts to return me to that State and punish me for a closed 1935 transaction, the news comes to me that the Appellate Court of the District of Columbia has upheld Judge Nettle's demands, and I must go back to Asheville during the coming ten days, submit to arrest and imprisonment, and be tried anew, and sentenced anew, for something that I was assured would be closed and done with, if I broke no new State laws in the five years between 1935 and 1940. I am writing you because I want you to know the full import of this case and what truly is being accomplished behind the scenes . .

Please understand at the outset that there is scarcely one scintilla of precedent for what this Appellate court has done. In almost 50 citations of the law in analagous cases, the decisions have been that no man can be called a fugitive from justice and forcibly returned from an asylum State, unless the demand be accompanied by a sworn affidavit, setting forth the nature of the demanded person's new crimes, and begging that he be returned because of them. In my own case, I haven't so much as received a parking ticket during the past five years. I have kept absolute faith with the State of North Carolina. But the State of North Carolina has by no means kept faith with me. In the person of Judge Nettles, my former frustrated prosecutor, it now gets me back—to serve a five-year sentence at hard labor. And for what?

Special Prosecutor Williams let the cat out of the bag in a letter which he wrote to Washington during the time of my appeal, urging haste in the decision of my case. "The good people of North Carolina," said he in substance, "feel that, owing to the troubled nature of the world abroad, it is best for this man to be incarcerated until the danger to the country is removed." In other words they don't want me down there in North Carolina because I have violated my suspended sentence, or broken any laws. They want me down there because I am Pelley of the Silvershirts, and my 'vitrolic pen' and dynamic printing press have seemed to raise havoc with the program of Israel as originally planned for United States Gentiles.

This is the situation which all of us are facing in the demonstration of racial rancor which this decision apparently represents. It leaves all of us to conclude that Law, as such, has gone by the board. We are no longer governed by laws, apparently; we are governed by MEN—the very thing that the head New Dealer castigates so vehemently in its exercise abroad that we must enter a disastrous war to smash. When the Jewish New Dealers employ the same tactics to silence their too-effective critics, however, it appears to be some freakish aspect of democracy. None of which mitigates the seriousness of the situation that I am now confronting. I must go back to North Carolina within the coming fortnight, take out a $10,000 bail bond—a sum usually named to cover the crime of murder—and settle down to a long-drawn-out fight to preserve my liberty over the next five years.

This new battle is going to cost me in the neighborhood of $10,000, and somehow or other I propose to raise the money and fight it. Just how it is going to affect the various Pelley publications, I can't, at the moment, say. In the corridor of the Washington, D. C. courthouse, after one of my 1940 hearings, two Jews were heard to remark: "We've got this bird to his financial knees now; a couple more good pokes, and we've got him out!" That's the kind of "jurisprudence" that I'm up against. It's typical of what the refugee New Dealers are doing to every department of our country.

What I truly want to do, is to make this case of such widespread interest over the entire United States, both in the press, in law offices, on the street, that it becomes a sort of casus belli for the ultimate elimination of such practices from our entire Federal life. That means that I've got to have a show-down among the thousands of persons who have approved of my program over the past seven years, as to which of them are going to battle this sort of thing to a finish, and which of them are going to shrug their shoulders and let the despoilers of the nation "walk all over them".

It is Adminstration Jews, I'm persuaded, who have been behind this prosecution from the start. If any of us want proof of it, we need search no farther than the Sunday-night broadcasts of Walter (Lipshitz) Winchell. He and his people have revealed by their unnatural interest in this case of mine, just how strong their concern is in it. As another bit of significant information, when Atty. Margolius—the Jew who had charge of the argument before the Appellate court in Washington, felt that he needed help, he had no difficulty, I'm advised, in procuring TEN attorneys from the New-Deal legal forces to make certain that he won his case. Even so, his argument before the Justices was described as an utter flop. He seems to have won his verdict without recourse to any law whatever. He won it, apparently, because the "culprit" was Pelley, and Adminstration Hebrews do not like Pelley. I need not comment further.

Where the money to fight this fresh fight is coming from, I haven't the slightest idea in the world, but right tonight all I can tell my correspondents in this letter is, THAT IT IS MY INTENTION TO FIGHT TO THE BITTER END. I feel that I have been absolutely guiltless in this whole affair from the very first. I never did anything with the slightest criminal intent. From first to last, my opponents have been "heeled" with a plethora of finance, derived from equally mysterious sources. That is the insufferable injustice in this case.

I want you to know what is happening, and how I feel about it. How much can YOU help, or are you WILLING TO HELP?

"Jordan Road sure am hard!"

Sincerely,
WILLIAM DUDLEY PELLEY,
Box 1477, Indianapolis, Indiana.

Slave Labor for Conscientious Objectors

"Not you, Herr Hitler, but God is my Fuehrer!" These defiant words by Pastor Martin Niemoeller sent him to Dachau concentration camp.

"Not you Mister Roosevelt, but God is my Commander in Chief!"

For these steadfast declarations 2000 young men have been assigned to "work camps" at Patasco, Md; Largo, Ind., and Grottoes, Va.

7000 EXPECTED

Four additional camps have been completed, the selective service board said, The board expects the number of certified objectors to reach 7000 by midsummer, says a press dispatch from Washington.

The men assigned to the camps are subject to the same period of service as those who go into the army. They differ from the army men, however, in two respects—they will wear work clothes instead of uniforms, and they will draw no pay.

Slave Camps "Everywhere in the World"

And in this fashion President Roosevelt is proving that his brand of "freedom to worship God according to one's conscience EVERYWHERE in the world", means that the United States is instituting involuntary servitude WITHOUT PAY for those who like Pastor Niemoeller have chosen God for their Chief in place of Roosevelt, the slave drafter.

To be a Christian and of draft age means confiment in work camps at hard work for one year, in violation of the First and Thirteenth Amendments to that Constitution which this presidential slave driver and hypocrite has three times sworn to protect.

In these United States of America, in the year of the Lord 1941, it is a crime and a disgrace to have chosen the Lord Jesus Christ, bear this in mind!

PEACE FOR THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

HEALTH-GERMS

By George Starr White, M. D.

WAR MEANS TYRANNY

Right now, when our "news"papers are full of the "War to Defend Democracy"; and stories of how Army life is improving the health and well-being of the "fortunate" conscripts, the following true story of World War days is appropriate:

Dr. Geo. Starr White

During 1917-18, I had classes every night, which were well attended by the older doctors of all schools. I was getting scores of young men who had been well until they had enlisted and had received the "regulation" serums and vaccins that the Medical Union had grafted into the Army. I used many of these disabled men to illustrate in my classes the dangers of vaccins.

From many of the camps I was receiving word of the way cigarets were being peddled and actually "forced" upon the drafted and enlisted men. It seemed too terrible to believe, so I got a reliable man to investigate and was told that every man in the camp was urged to smoke cigarets. If he would not, he was humiliated.

As I did not see this personally, I had to tell it as information coming to me "from a reliable source". All these talks were to my pupils. As they were doctors I wanted to inform them, so they could all act to help fight the cigaret makers' propaganda to get cigarets into the mouth of every man and woman connected with the armed forces.

As a "war measure" special courts were established to "try" those suspected of "treason", or of aiding the enemy. One morning I was served with a summons to appear before a certain "extemporized" court. I went alone; as I knew my rights as an American Citizen.

The "judge" had a stenographer in the room, so there were two against one. I told the "judge" that as I was not represented legally, I would answer questions, provided that I could ask questions. He agreed to this stipulation.

From a brief-case the "judge" took some yellow sheets of paper—the color being appropriate to the occasion. He began to read extracts of what I was supposed to have said in my classes regarding the use of cigarets and vaccins at a Camp not many miles away.

He asked if I had made any such remarks. I told him that I not only had, but had said much more. But before explaining why I had made them, I would ask him some questions, and wished the stenographer to record them for my own use as well as his, as I was not legally represented. He agreed. The questions and answers were about as follows:

Q. Did the "judge" have a son in the camp refered to?

A. He had.

Q. Had the son smoked cigarets before he went to camp?

A. He had not.

Q. Did he now smoke them?

A. He did.

Q. Had the son ever been vaccinated before going to camp?

A. Never.

Q. Had the boy ever been sick before he enlisted; and was he as well now as before he went to this camp for "training"?

A. He had never been sick before; but had not been well since entering this camp.

Q. Did he know that his son was then, at that very hour, in a hospital in a dangerous condition?

The "judge" made a sudden movement of surprise and asked if that were really so. I told him to telephone and find out. The "judge" telephoned and learned that his son was dangerously ill. I told him that I was sorry, but that he had a family example of what serums and vaccins, to say nothing of cigarets, were doing to cripple the American Army.

I then put the question to this extemporized "judge", "Is weakening the American army before it goes "over seas" aiding the enemy, or helping the Army of occupation?" (I might have said, "Is ruining the health of our men helping preserve Democracy; or is it aiding the forces of Tyranny that we are supposed to be fighting?")

The "judge" bowed his head and said he had never given that a thought before; but now was ready to say openly that it did look as if the medical forces were working to destroy the fighting forces.

He suddenly said, "Dr. White, the medical forces are trying to injure you. I give you a clean bill." Thus ended the episode.

For the sake of the record, I would like to add that this man sought the "patriotic" office of "judge" in such cases, resigned the day he "wiped the slate clean" so far as charges against me were concerned. His son died a month later, without having had a chance to "strike a blow" for "Democracy". He died a victim of that tyranny he thought he had to go abroad to fight!

Best Friend of Man, The Earthworm

Its habits and value to Civilization are many.

Last October, I bought a $25.00 order of earthworms from Dr. Oliver. I placed these earthworms in a compost bed located where about 50 chickens roosted.

In 100 days, I took 7 wheelbarrow loads from this compost bed which had become fully impregnated with millions of worms and egg capsules, to my 10-acre avocado grove. I placed a shovel full in eight-inch holes under the trees, and had enough to impregnate the soil around the trees on three acres. I left one-third of the original lot in the compost heap to renew my culture bed.

After I placed the earthworms where the chickens roosted there was no more odor, though before the place had been very offensive.

I think that by fall I can have my whole ranch impregnated with earthworms as they increase so rapidly. There is a wonderful future in this work of assisting nature.

Very sincerely, M. D. JOHNSTON.
RANCHO CALIHOMA Encinitas, Calif.

* * * *

I was born on a farm in central Illinois 75 years ago. My father kept lots of livestock & the barnlot drained down to the pasture. In the springtime I used to go over this pasture and thump the ground just to hear the millions of earthworms pop back and make many queer, dull noises, indeed when we had the big May and June rains the old nesters would say it "rained worms" last night forgetting that earthworm is a breathing animal and was seeking higher quarters.

Farming in America began in New England some 300 years ago and it was not long until the land would not "raise beans" and the farmers pushed on over the Allegheny Mountains west and as the farms became poor, kept pushing to the great central west where soil was so rich the Illinois farmer said 60 years ago that it would never get poor. But they soon found out that one cannot continually take from a thing and have same left. The millions of bushels of stored grain in many of the big cities is nothing but the cream of the soil—the fertility.

Farmers found that continually farming in one kind of crop depleted the soil and it would not plow up with any life and would keep yielding less. Farmers were told to sow the clovers to bring up more available productive soil and the deep roots would open up the seed bed making it more useful for grain. One wag said where were you farmers going when that is used up?

The great corn land of America has all been located many years since and we will have to improve what we have, but how? Naturalists tell us that there are over 1,000 kinds of earthworms scattered all over the globe where there is moisture and warmth. In fact they were the first homesteaders and have been on this planet since animal life first appeared. Indeed, all the rich valleys are mostly the work of the earthworm ages ago getting it suitable for man to till by its fertility and looseness. This worm grows to be 8 and 10 inches in the tropics but will average 3 to 4 inches in this latitude and is composed of segments with bristles or hairlike projections pointing either way that enables it to push forward or backward in the moist earth by the use of its powerful muscles. Though it cannot see, its body is very sensitive to light and can tell the difference between night and day. It is a night prowler under certain conditions. It feeds on decomposed vegetation and will force its way down in the earth many feet, loosening up the soil so plant life can get deep rooted. It comes to surface under moist conditions and deposits its excrea that is known as castings. Darwin estimated this at 10 tons per acre. As its activity is under our feet mostly it is not noticed by many.

It has a wonderfully organized body its whole length with a crop and gizzard-like organs that they digest tons of earthy matter making the soil very productive. An adult worm has a light colored sexual ring that one can see from a redish-brown body and it is bisexual, but must mate as other animals. The eggs are sloughed off over its head in a ring like organ that closes a gelatine ball about the size of BB shots and contains from 3 to doz fertile eggs about the size of a mustard seed. These eggs hatch in 21 days and a worm not longer than quarter of inch appears and will mature to adult in 90 days. They never undergo any other change but increase in length and size. All its life it is gorging itself with soil and bringing it to the use of plant-life.

Los Angeles has the largest Earthworm Farm in America. It is owned by Dr. Geo. S. Oliver who has made a study of it for years, developing a hybrid worm that is the most useful of all. He ships the capsules that contain the eggs all over the U. S. and many foreign countries. Any one with care can propagate these animals in their back yards or porch and get a whole lot fun observing nature do things and incidently earn much spare cash.

It is a trite saying that every one should have a hobby, but he should know how to ride it. Any one can start a "wormery" for a dollar and in a year or so will have millions of these critters if only using 2 hours a week to see that they have moisture and 40 to 55 degree heat with plenty rich loam in darkness—all in a half bushel box. The eggs are in these capsules and can be transferred to any like climate and culture.

The fruit growers of California are finding that plants and trees that have only commercial fertilizer that in many cases is strong with acid, is working havoc with their soil. Many trees are showing a distressed, unhealthly appearance. Some are dying at the top and quite a few die. Any fertilizer that has so much acid that eats the life out of the workman's shoes, is too objectionable to the soil. It is like the rancher that said he could drive his team of broncos a hundred miles a day on 3 feeds and if he used the black-snake they would not need the noon feed, but they showed more fatigue at night and would not eat at all. Acid fertilizer whips the land into unhealthy condition.

Up at Redlands, Calif. an orange grower only used earthworms as a fertilizer and has thrifth, dark colored foliage and the fruit is most perfect. He has been following this up for many years at no cost but just some common sense with nature.

If you wish to observe nature and grow happy in this worm hobby, start an earthworm ranch. This animal's name is LUMBRICUS TERRESTRIS, the scientist says.

M. D. JOHNSTON.

Medical "Health Board" Rules Increase T. B. Deaths

We have always maintained that the most deadly baccillus is the M. D. needle squirter. In The AMERICAN Magazine for March, 1941 appears the following in an article written by Don Eddy, entitled 'Walls Between the States':

A few weeks ago I entered a grocery on the outskirts of Washington, D. C., and asked the price of a half-pint of coffee cream. It was 17 cents. Then I walked three blocks to another store just across the line in Maryland and found the price to be 14 cents. Why?

A crusading Washington housewife told an investigating committee this summer that the District of Columbia virtually bars the free importation of milk by rigid sanitary inspections which provide: that milking shall be done in a room with a ceiling which does not collect dust, that the milker shall sit only upon a three-legged metal stool, and that he must use one hemstitched towel per teat.

She said Washintgon families pay between $500,000 and $750,000 too much each year for milk and cream. Asked whether the District's laws are not superior safeguards for public health, she pointed out that Washington's death rate from the principal milk-borne disease is 12 per cent higher than its neighbor, Baltimore, which doesn't have such fancy regulations.

MAZDAZNAN CONFESSION

(Master Thought)

With mine eyes lifted beyond the mountain-tops and my heart fixed by the burning fire of love, I shall daily join in harmonious accord the prayer of the faithful worshippers; the prayer thrice spoken distinctly, and with the presence of mind fixed upon the meaning of every word; the prayer that heals the body and assures tranquility to the mind; the prayer that gives solace to the soul and whispers to the spirit Peace; the prayer breathed in tuneful measure with fervour, zeal and the spirit of assurance, on one single expiration:

May Mazda be rejoiced and His Associates continue to be victorious. May obstinacy in this home be destroyed through the Virtue of Obedience, discord by Peace, avarice by Generosity, vanity by Wisdom, false witness by Truthfulness, that the Immortals may long bless it with maintenance and friendly help; never the Splendour of Prosperity or Progeny be distinguished, that we may shine with purity and see Thee face to face, O Mazda, attaining attributes leading unto worlds without end. May Peace come to one and all, and may there be given to this country purity, dominion, profit, majesty, and splendour. This is my wish. Be it so.

OUR GROUNDHOG WORLD

By GEO. CARTWRIGHT

Golden Text

"It is written, My house shall be called the house of prayer; but ye have made it a den of thieves."—Matthew, 21-13.

Compare Christ's condemnation above quoted with the following news item:

"We have a letter from the Housing Projects Manager of an insurance company stating this company paid four million dollars for a piece of land, owned for years by a Church organization, therefore exempt from taxation. The organization profited by increase of population. Social services rendered by the community were capitalized in the sale. There is no warrant in equity or in morals for such capitalization."
—The Freeman.

Dependence Day

"This country should abandon clebration of July 4th as Independence Day. We have returned economically, politically, diplomatically and emotionally, to the status of a crown colony of the British Empire.

"Already eastern Anglomaniacs are preaching the thesis that our destiny is inevitably linked with Britain. Clarence Streit is demanding 'Union Now' with the English. The William Allen White House is screaming the British war-cry 'Stop Hitler' from its famous fireside. Dorothy Thompson, Claude Pepper, Walter Winchell and the rest of the perpetual emotion crew are beating their collective breasts for war."—Douglas Dobson, Columbus, O.

By Charles H. Ingersoll
(Of Dollar Watch Fame)

NEW YORK, (Radio Broadcast)—

Leon Feuchtwanger, Jewish Playwright, arrived, after a miraculous escape from his villa in France—just as I am reflecting on my third viewing of his most famous film, "Power".

Ingersoll

My emotions are mixed as to the "moral" of this Austrian Court intrigue and expose of Jewish persecution, which Herr Hitler must have drawn on for his present inspiration of destruction. I was not over-impressed with "Power".

Such a position revives the persistent suggestion that academic education is not to be considered a means to an end, but a job that must always be kept active and never concluded.

So if politics only results in shortening, clarifying and simplifying the process of economic education, it should be actively pushed.

Mark Anthony dallyiny with Cleopatra is being mildly reproduced by a British M. P. and Captain and one of our most famous heiresses. This and some other cases of Frenchmen going home to face the music of public clamor and prejudiced courts, is a type of courage not often seen.

The President's theme of education as a promotion of dictatorship in his Dutchess County swing, provokes serious reflection. Will it prevent or make dictatorships. It certainly won't prevent them, if it does not educate in the fundamentals of economic democracy. And so far it has admitted Marxism, the essence of dictatorships—and leaves the democratic picture very foggy.

The N. Y. Journal has conducted a poll of its own, to test some of the statements about 'the people wanting war'. For example, the President's statement was that approval was 100 to 1, for his position. The Journal poll shows 10 to 1 against war. It is surprising that as many as one in ten want war; but the trouble comes when propaganda drags in the 'if-your-child-were-attacked' argument.

It is true enough—as chanted by Neo-Georgists—that the services of government are the most obvious factor in producing the "phenomena" of econmic rent. But it is equally true that without the other factors of rich fertile land, of pressure of population, and of monopoly permitted, we would not have the volume of land value and rent that we do.

So what is to be gained by re-educating everyone and rebuilding a dictionary, in a war of words. Haven't we confusion enough, without going to look for it.

Woe to them that lay field to field.—Isaiah.

SONNET — TWO OF A KIND

It is the biggest dog that gets the bone;
Throw out another—he will want that too!
Throw out a dozen and he will pursue
Them all, as if he thought them all his own.
He cannot understand, now he is grown,
What business little dogs can have to do
With any bones at all! He takes the view
That bones were made for him, and him alone.

And that same cast of mind is in some men
Who want the surface of the Earth for theirs!
Else why should farmers be share-croppers when
Rich virgin soil uncultivated stares
Them in the face? O, for some trenchant pen
To show what semblance Land-greed to Bone-greed bears.

—Horatio.

Whenever there are in any country uncultivated fields and unemployed poor it is certain the laws of property have been so far extended as to violate natural right. The Earth is given as a commonstock for man to live and labor on. —Thomas Jefferson. (See Jefferson's Works, Vol. VIII p 196).

Five Vicious Germans

By Herbert S. Mace

Footprints were found, but the storm had again delayed justice; for the footprints were filled with water and were too soft to reveal the real nature of the men. But the most important clew was a small package of radio equipment, found just outside the window from where Miss Garden had been watching.

No doubt, "Five Vicious Germans" were at work to destroy the powder mills. Two had undoubtedly creeped into the house and planned to make headquarters in the attic, while three were to use the vacant, deserted cabin across the canyon. Indeed! it was an amazing plot, a plot to set up a radio station under the roof of Centerville's leading woman and from there direct the destruction of the powder mills, perhaps the murdering of the people of the city.

Miss Garden's home was searched from top to bottom, but no more clews were found. Perhaps her screams had warned the invaders in time to escape. The cabin must by all means be watched; but to approach too near or enter at the present time might only defeat the law and justice by warning the crafty Germans, so the part of wisdow was chosen. Additional guards were stationed at the powder mills, guards were given Miss Mary Garden, and a thoro investigation was started.

The people of Centerville slept but little that night. Great crowds gathered at the police station to learn the latest news concerning the amazing plot. Clews came thick and fast. Finger print experts soon discovered that the paper on which the note was written was paper belonging to the gardener whom Miss Mary Garden had recently discharged. An even more amazing thing was discovered. A book dealer recalled selling the paper to Mr. Hans Goetz and seeing him attach a Birthday Card to it and addressing it to Miss Garden's gardener. The police records were searched for writing like that on the note. The signatures of hundreds of Germans throughout the section were compared with the writing in hopes of finding a clew to the writer, but to no avail.

The cabin was guarded, but secretly. It was considered best not to let the plotters know that they were suspected of using it. To throw them off their guard, Mr. Robert Smith, an employee of the powder mill whose home was near by consented to have his home guarded, to be discharged and to have the police watch him as one of the suspects.

By noon the following day, the police were convinced that "Five Vicious Germans" were in a plot to destroy the powder mills; that the home of Miss Mary Garden was to have been one of their working points; that the cabin from which flashes of light had been seen was another one. They were convinced that Miss Mary Garden's former gardener and Mr. Hans Goetz were in on the plot. Warrants for their arrest were sworn out, but neither could be located. Both had moved from town the day before and no one seemed to know where they had gone. The guards watching the cabin reported that at about eleven o'clock, someone, who looked like a young girl had slipped through the bushes to the cabin and left a note on the door. The note had been carefully removed from the envelope, photographed and replaced, so as to secure the desired information without letting the Germans know that they were being watched. The note read as follows:-

"Boys, don't come tonight. House is guarded. Bring things to school".

The handwriting was carefully compared with all the German's in the community; with that of criminals; and copies of the photograph with other important details of the case were rushed to the Secret Service men all over the country. The Canadian Government was notified of the plot and warned to watch the sons of Mr. Hans Goetz.

But we need not go into farther detail. For three long weeks, day and night, the home of Miss Mary Garden, the home of Mr. Robert Smith and the cabin were watched and guarded. Clews piled up. Signalling was taking place from the cabin every night. Every night about eight o'clock three figures could be seen creeping thru the bushes at the top of the canyon, entering the cabin, sending out signals by flashes of light and later over a small radio broadcasting set. The code was well known, but the messages were bewildering—apparently being the carrying on of a radio love affair. Little by little experts put the messages together and believed they were about to solve the problem of this most amazing code of "The Five Vicious Germans".

At last! the time came to strike. The moon would not come up till nine o'clock. Hundreds of soldiers from the camp near the powder mills, with many volunteers and the police came up the river, up thru the long narrow canyons on both sides of the cabin and surrounded it. Hidden in the bushes, they waited in silence for the Germans to return to their cabin and the signal to move forward. Machine guns were set up at vantage points; search lights were hidden away, in fact, everything was set for the catch.

Miss Mary Garden paced back and forth across her large parlor. Her friends could not quiet her.She knew that tonight, "The Five Vicious Germans" would be captured or, failing to capture them, all the powder mills would be blown up. She could not rest. Mr. Robert Smith stayed home that night, the first in many weeks. He had cancelled some important engagements in order to be home with his wife and three boys, ages eleven, fourteen and fifteen, when the officers struck at the cabin. For some time he played with and read to the boys. At last the boys went to bed and Mr. Smith expressed great relief that they had not suspected the terrible things that might take place in their own back yard, that night.

Seven, eight, nine o'clock came; but the three sneaking figures had not appeared along the rim of the hill, nor had any noise or sign of life came from the cabin. At last, just as the moon was raising—three figures hurriedly beat their way thru the bushes. The soldiers and their helpers waited in dead silence as these figures made their way to the cabin. Again they entered. Again they signalled. Again the radio messages were sent out.

The Ladies Call for Armistice

"Let's Bury the Hatchet"

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

You seem to be a pretty decent sort of fellow after all. Can't we "bury the hatchet" and be on friendly terms, even though we do not yet see eye to eye on everything? You are just a little bit like F. D. R. in that while you are saying or writing me one thing you're doing another. For instance, you say you don't want my "stuff" and are sending it back, at the same time you are publishing some of it.

You did publish my article on Esther and the Purim and I am glad you did for that will help to open the eyes of some of the hypocrites who insist in taking their holy communion with the Christ killers whom Jesus Christ Himself condemns into hell. (Matthew XXIII).

But wait another 2000 years until this continent, like Europe, has been drenched in one blood bath after another. You yourself will perhaps have been drafted and forced to serve in the Army to slaughter your brethren, and your sons too will have grown to manhood and likewise be slaughtered off—for all the intelligentsia who have the God-given intelligence to resist the devil, his emissaries, and their plots must be slaughtered off so as not to resist—then wherever you are, some place in eternity, you will be ready and willing to agree with me in the things I believe and advocate N O W — that the only way to alleviate the suffering and remove the danger from poison serpents (vipers and serpents, as Christ calls them) is to exterminate them by killing. Our Army and Navy, at least a large percentage of those men, know that eventually this is what has to be done, for the only law of God or man these devils will respect is the law of force and violence. That's why they are having to apply it with such force in Europe today, and that's why the vipers are being vomited out of every port on the other side, making the U. S. A. the cuspidor. But it is going to take that to nauseate the American people to make them stir themselves into ACTION, and the innocent have to suffer with the ignorant.

Will you do me a personal favor by sending for something to read, then letting me know what you think of it? It will cost you 25c. Send to THE CITIZENS NO FOREIGN WAR COALITION, Inc., THE BELVEDERE—1301 Massachusetts Aveenue N. W., Washington, D. C. for copy of their Manual. It is worth several times the price—seventy pages of gospel truth.

After you have read it I shall be most interested to learn your reaction to it and whether or not your conscience will let you subscribe to such a program, and if not why not. The fact is, this Manual comprises about seventy five per cent of the program of our National Liberty Party, and I view it as about our last and best hope for national unity of the Christian forces before the Armageddon breaks in all its fury.

Sincerely,
MRS. LOIS de LAFAYETTE WASHBURN.

Editor's Note: "God does not want the death even of a sinner."

Lillian Carque Writes

Dear Mr. de Aryan:

If you believe my offerings of sufficient scientific value, by all means proceed to publish them, as you intimated in your letter to Mr. Kullgren, appearing in issue for April 14 of the BROOM. Far be it from me to withhold any information that will raise the general level of intelligence of the masses. But in releasing my unpublished material, may I respectfuly request that you do so as if I were writing as an individual. Inasmuch as Natural Brands, Inc. does not want the complimentary publicity which invariably accompanied my articles, kindly refrain from granting it to them.

As an individual, I have always done my work in the spirit of love and service to humanity. In return I received a very modest income from Natural Brands.

I say this by way of explanation to convince you that I am an altruist at heart. Neither the late Otto Carque nor I would have waged an uphill pioneering fight in the difficult sphere of food reform, were we solely motivated by a desire for commercial profits only. Other industries afforded easier and more attractive means of making money.

Cordial Greetings,
LILLIAN R. CARQUE, Sc. D.
